

Asiatic spark extract:

Asiatic spark is a plant of the Apiaceae family, which has been used in traditional Chinese medicine for thousands of years for its healing properties.

Asiatic spark is extracted from the plant called Gotu Kola that grows in central Asia, parts of Africa, India, Japan, Sri Lanka and Indonesia. It is one of the main ingredients in Korean cosmetics and is known by the following benefits:

- Healing properties: its content in triterpenic derivatives stimulate the formation of fibroblasts, cells which are able to repair damaged tissue.
- Moisturizing: helps to keep the skin moisture being ideal for dry skin.
- Promotes the production of collagen, essential for maintaining the youth of the skin and its firmness.
